TWO-TENTHS POINT COSTS CHAMPIONSHIP

SOCCER TEAM

What proved to be a marginal tally was required to see that Fitchburg was two tenths of a point behind Bridgewater. This weird and somewhat disappointing ending was not characteristic of the Falcon's season. Coach Elliot's booters closed a most successful soccer season, notching six victories, and two ties, while suffering only two setbacks.

The offensive might of the Big Green was felt throughout the league this year, as the Fitchburg booters piled up a total of 27 goals while only 10 were scored against them.

THE FRESHMAN CAMPAIGN

The Freshman Class is entitled to hearty congratulations. Never before has such spirit and enthusiasm encaptured this campus for a class election. The banners and campaign signs seemed to add an atmosphere of gaiety and color to our drab, red brick buildings.

Moreover, they are also to be congratulated on their full participation in the election. The Freshman Class has a roster of 200 names. 190 of the 200 Freshmen cast a vote for their candidates. This is, indeed, a record in the history of our school.

The results of the election are as follows:

President	William Mini
Vice-President . .	Nancy Johnson
Treasurer	William Johnstone
Secretary	Nancy Berg
Student Government	James May
	Elizabeth Nagle
Sponsors	Miss Antilla
	Mr. Jacobsen

We would like to extend our best wishes to the officers and to the Class of 1960 and wish them a happy and successful year.

MEET THE FACULTY

Dr. MATTHEW J. BRENNAN

We welcome to the campus this year Dr. Matthew J. Brennan, Doc Brennan, or Uncle Mat, to those who have come to know him.

Doc Brennan is a native of Litchfield, Connecticut, and was graduated from Brown University in 1939. In the sports corner at Brown, Doc played fullback on three championship soccer teams and was a letter man in tennis. He began his graduate work at Columbia University, but a stretch of scarlet fever forced him to drop out.

NEW DORM?

Fitchburg Teacher's College, 1956 has thrown open its doors to more than 200 freshman students. With an enrollment as large as this, the doors indeed have to be wide open. Once you freshmen are inside Fitchburg's doors this is your Alma Mater, treat it as such. If there is something you want for the good of your school or for your school pals, make it your business, strive to get it. Men students, new and old, make the new men's dormitory your business.

To date, President Weston, members of the faculty, and Alumni have been working constantly on this project. However, if you reflect upon the new gymnasium, plans for which began in 1914, you may be a little dubious about results, and justly so. Thanks to Mr. Weston and all others concerned, the gym is finally started. What did we students do? You know the answer, you're a student.

The necessity of a new dorm need not be discussed here because the facts are too numerous and all too well known. Just ask any male dorm student on campus about the necessity of a new dorm. Then ask him what he has done. Talk? Oh yes, he talked plenty, but what has he done? Let's do something about this, our problem. Get behind President Weston and our alumni 100%, then we will be able to call the new men's dorm, our dorm.

"Well, how can this be done?" is the natural question. Astoundingly enough, the answer is simple. Men, present the facts of our needs to your legislators. Then tell your parents, relatives and friends invoking their legislative pressure. For most effective means, see your legislators

SEEK SOLUTION TO PARKING PROBLEM

THE PARKING SITUATION

The parking problem is a topic that today, is perplexing every college, industry, and business throughout the country. With sixty million cars on the road, it is indeed difficult, if not impossible to find a place to park the "little Ford."

We at Fitchburg Teachers College have encountered the same problem that faces hundreds of others. If you believe that "misery loves company" that is a slight consolation. At any rate, the Student Government has thrashed over the problem for many weeks, and has inquired at countless places in order to find some relief for the pressing problem.

Thus far, here are the solutions for the situation. The playground across North Street has been opened for dormitory students and for commuters. The area is large enough to accommodate sixty to eighty cars. Since the dormitory students are no longer able to park their cars on Pearl Street during the night, they have purchased garage space or else are using the playground on North Street. In this way, commuters who arrive early in the morning are able to find space on Pearl Street or the streets around the college.

The area between the athletic field and the I.A. building is open to all commuters. In addition, the lawn area between the new gymnasium and the I.A. building can now be used for parking. This area will accommodate about forty cars. The paved area between the I.A. building and the junior high is now available for faculty, thus allowing the students a few of the faculty's old parking positions.

Through these measures, the problem has been relieved temporarily and we hope that when you drive up at 8:15 in the morning there will be a parking space for you and you and you. As the college expands, we hope that the parking lots will be expanded also. Patience is the finest rule of a good driver, so let us all learn it and remember it.

In the spring of 1940 Doc joined the staff of lecturers at the New York Zoological Worlds Fair. Here he met a petite, pretty cashier and cupid scored at once. Needless to say, that cashier is now Mrs. Brennan. The Brennans are now the proud parents of a four and a half year old girl, Patty. In 1941, he returned to his native town of Litchfield and to teaching as the biology teacher and soccer coach at the high school.

July 1942 saw Doc Brennan enlist in the U.S. Air Force. He was sent to aviation cadet training school at M.I. T., where he studied meteorology. Commissioned in September 1943, Doc served throughout the European Theater. In Scotland, he worked with North Atlantic Forecasting, later he saw service at Air Corps headquarters in Paris. In Germany, Doc Brennan was made chief of the central office for weather forecasting.

Mustered out with the rank of captain he continued his graduate work at Columbia, from which he now holds a master's and doctor's degree in biology. While working for his doctor's degree, he was professor of biology and tennis coach at Manhattan College. In 1949 he left Manhattan to accept a position as biology professor and professor of elementary science at Jersey City Teachers College. Teaching has been an all year round job for Doc Brennan; during the summers he has taught camping and conservation at Jersey City S.T.C., and this past summer, Doc tackled the job of teaching a workshop in elementary education, and science consultant at Rutgers University.

For several years now Doc Brennan had been looking for a chance to get back to New England and he is very pleased that at Fitchburg this opportunity happened. He is at present living in the men's dormitory, but would like to move his family to Massachusetts.

In the short time he has been here his amiable personality and wonderful sense of humor have won the respect and liking of the students. The soccer team would like to thank him for the helping hand he gave to the coach.

When asked about the students, Doc said, "I am pleased to work with such a nice group of students, and have welcomed the chance to help out students when I can."

EDITORIAL

Few of us on the Fitchburg Teachers College campus realize the importance of our Student Government. We are all urged to pay our fees, but we tend to think of it as, "More Money," instead of recognizing the benefits we receive from its existence. The very newspaper in which you are reading this editorial is made possible through the funds provided by the Student Government.

This organization has many diversified functions. Problems which occur within the student body are handled by the board if they are brought to the attention of representatives. The Student Government sponsors not only the various social functions on this campus, but the many clubs and athletic groups as well. In addition to these duties, the members try to aid students in bringing campus improvements to their fruition. Through the efforts of the Student Government council, a hot drink machine has been placed in Thompson Hall for the convenience of the members of the school.

In the post office section of the Administration building is a bulletin board which has been designated for the use of the council. Notices of meetings, which are open to all students, are posted, as well as the minutes of the previous meeting. We should all make an attempt to keep ourselves informed of the activities of our school by reading the reports on this board.

Constructive criticism is welcomed, as it is helpful not only to the Student Government, but also to the school as well. Anyone having a suggestion as to some matter with which the council should deal is asked to make it known. Possible solutions to current problems are also agreeably received. Complaints made for the sake of complaining will not be considered, but valid grievances will receive prompt attention.

It is therefore, very necessary that we all take an active interest in our Student Government and do our best to support it. Means have been devised whereby a student may pay as little as two dollars a month until he has paid the full eighteen dollar fee. At present our hat's off to the freshman class of which ninety-eight percent have paid. Let's all get behind our Student Government and have every class paid one-hundred percent!

in person. If this is not possible, contact them in writing or even 'phone.

Our own Miss Conlon is actively participating in this drive for our new men's Dorm. As Secretary-Treasurer of the Massachusetts State Teachers College Alumni Federation, consisting of more than 50,000 members, she is making it possible to enlist the active support of this organization. Again the breaks are with us, because Miss Murphy of Lynn, a graduate of Fitchburg Teachers College is an officer of this same Federation.

With the support of President Weston, our Alumni, and the Massachusetts State Teachers College Alumni Federation, we students are in an enviable position. Right now is the time to act. Do your job. Just remember everyone is behind you. Some day you may be able to say, "I helped build that Dorm," to some young freshman walking through the wide open doors of Fitchburg Teacher's College.

MELODY CORNER

The Glee Club, under the direction of Richard Kent, is busy rehearsing a variety of new numbers for a program of light music planned for January.

An orchestra made up of about fifteen students has been formed. They are now playing together for the enjoyment of light music. Mr. Kent hopes to establish them as a permanent attraction in presenting programs along with the Glee Club. Any student wishing to join the orchestra is asked to speak with Mr. Kent.

MOTHER TO SIXTY-SIX

Among the maybe not so well-known, but certainly more important persons on campus is Mrs. Phillips. She has the wonderful, but back-breaking job of being housemother in the girls dormitory.

She obtained the position in 1953, when she carefully looked over the lists for the employment put out by the state. She was hired immediately.

Before coming to Fitchburg State Teachers College, she was housemother for two boy's prep schools. Their loss was our gain. "The Dorm Girl's Best Friend", and hopes to be The boy's best friend too.

Mrs. Phillips stated that her family thought the life of the Dorm would keep her busy; but feels worn out after a day's work. Mrs. Phillips wanted to be a housemother "because she wanted an interesting life." She has gotten her wish.

We certainly hope, Mrs. Phillips, that you have enjoyed your stay at F.T.C. as much as we have and we certainly hope that you'll be around on campus for many more years to be our "best friend."

The leading scorers were Kilday and Warriner with six, and Grealey with five. But the scoring was a team undertaking with eleven different tions for beginners so that everyone men banging the ball through the up-rights. To the defensive men and goal keeper Bob Wills goes a lot of credit for the job they did in turning back the opponents.

One of the Falcon booters' main objectives of the season was Bridgewater. On the first encounter, Bridgewater scored a 1-0 victory against a still unorganized Fitchburg eleven. But on the second meeting on Bridgewater's home field, the Falcons walked off with a 3-3 tie confident that they had made Bridgewater a number one client for Life-bouy Soap.

The Senior men who have finished their soccer for Fitchburg with this season are: Ronnie Bachiochi, Rod Cameron, Dave Crowley, Don Eken-gren, Bruce Grealey (co-capt.), Tom Kilday, Harry Setian, Dave Stone, and Walt Warriner (co-capt.).

The added help from Dr. Brennan was greatly appreciated both by Coach Elliot and the men, and indeed contributed to the soccer team's impressive record.

Co-Captains elect for next year are Bob Wills and Jack Walsh.

An outstanding event of the afternoon was the "bobbing for apples" which was a race between the green and white team. The green team was victorious and the losers "happily" served the hamburgers. The cook-out terminated the afternoon and although we were tired we certainly had a great time.

W. A. A. NEWS

The Woman's Athletic Association is looking forward to a busy year. Field Hockey has started off with a bang and with the great enthusiasm shown by the freshmen, we hope to have a competitive year between the green and white teams. Let's show the reasons why we are looking forward to the new gym!

On Tuesday, October 2, a Freshman rally was held by the Woman's Athletic Association. Because of the ceaseless talk of initiation we somewhat dreaded the event although to our surprise the afternoon turned out to be an lively and exciting one. Some of the activities of the afternoon included tiresome games and tasks like fetching firewood and performing skits. Never did we realize that the class of 60' had such a vast variety of talents.

THE DRUM

Bill Brown had a noisy idea. The bass drum, which was dusted off and pulled out only on rare occasions, was just sitting around Palmer Hall. Therefore, on the night of the Freshmen Reception Dance, Bill Brown presented the drum to John Benoit, the Sophomore Class president

It seems that Bill thought that the Freshmen, who were the losers of the rope pull, should present the drum to the Sophomores, who were victorious, as a symbol of the Freshmen defeat and as an offering of peace.

Therefore, in the future, we hope will be started. Whenever a contest that by this new gesture a tradition is held, the drum should be given to the winners as a token of their success.

Let's get behind and support this new idea at F.T.C.

INTRAMURAL SOCCER

Some men wrestle alligators for a living. Others umpire baseball. Still others munch on razor blades and wash them down with fire. And there are those, the supreme dare-devils, who play intramural soccer.

It Wasn't Cricket

In a rockum sockum soccer game the Sophomores shut out the Freshmen 2-0. The pattern of this game was established early, never varied, kill the other guy.

The Freshmen had many chances but couldn't capitalize. Outstanding play by Freshman goalie Dick Cross kept the Frosh in the game. The first goal was scored by Pete Carigila on a pass from Joe Hannon. Darkness and confusion resulted in another goal by Roger Berthiam late in the fourth quarter.

Triumph of the Toe

The Seniors recognized the growing pains of the Juniors, but they have not become of age. The Seniors rolled over the Juniors with ten men, 3-2.

It wasn't an ordinary game of soccer. It was terrific. Both teams threatened many times throughout the game. Great goal play by Burt Cofman, combined with three goals by Bruce Grealey proved to be too much for the Juniors. The two goals for the Juniors came off the toe' sof Gene Graveline and Bob "fullback" Joensuu.

Alone in the Dark

When the final whistle blew the score stood Seniors 4 Sophomores 1. The title winning Senior soccer team delivered a performance of such explosive vehemence that it booted the undefeated Sophomores right out of contention.

Blistering precisely co-ordinated team work of only nine men never let the Sophs recover. Bud Warriner led the attack with two goals, Phil Tardinico, and Harry Setian each slipped one through the up-rights. Again Burt Cofman's great goal play closed the door on the 27 man Sophomore squad. The one lone goal for the Sophs was scored by Charlie Campbell. Darkness covered the field with minutes to play, and it became more of a challenge to find the ball than score.

How the Other Half Drowns

The Freshmen "mudders" defeated the Juniors 2-1, in a game played in mud and rain. Barbaza and Reed each scored once to knock off the favored Juniors. Graveline scored on a penalty kick for the only score for the J-Boys. Though the Freshmen were the victors, both teams looked good in mud.

EVEN POETRY

"Sophomores want their women to be like a cigarette, slender and trim, all in a row, to be selected at will, set aflame and when the flame has subsided, discarded only to select another."

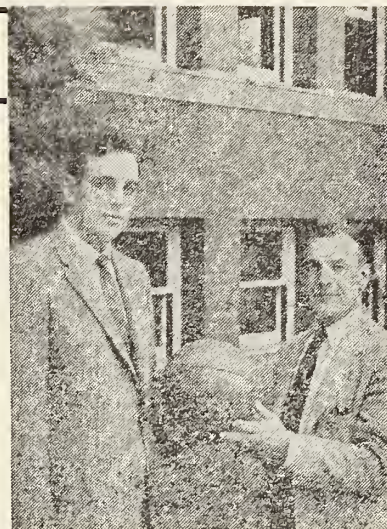

"A Junior wants his women to be like a cigar. They're more expensive, make a better appearance, and last longer."

"A Senior wants his girls to be like his pipe—Something he becomes attached to, knocks around gently but lovingly and takes great care of at all times."

"A man will give you a cigarette, offer you a cigar, but will never share his pipe."

P.S.—Freshmen are too young to smoke.

"HERB O'CONNOR TO COACH FALCONS"

The opening of the F.T.C. 1956-57 basketball season will mark the debut of Herb O'Connor as varsity coach of the Falcons. Herb coached the J.V.'s last year and this year becomes one of the few student coaches in college circles. A graduate of St. Bernard's High in Fitchburg, he participated in football and basketball while in high school and during his four years in the U.S. Navy, following his discharge, Coach O'Connor attended Cushing Academy and entered F.T.C. in 1955, where he immediately took charge of the junior varsity.

Herb is confident that his charges will improve on last years rather dismal season. He is particularly enthused over the return of several veteran cagers and a fine crop of newcomers. The Falcons this year will be participating in the newly formed New England Teachers Conference and Coach O'Connor feels certain that they will make a good impression. Students and faculty alike want to wish Herb and the team the best of luck in the coming season.

NEW UNIFORMS

Coach Bob Elliot and Student Coach Herb O'Connor made a $659.25 purchase of basketball and soccer equipment from the former Spaulding Sporting Equipment representative James Fenton, who now runs his own store in the Springfield area. The purchase was for jerseys, shorts, warm-up pants and jackets. They are approved by the National High School Federation, and are the official uniform used for all inter-collegiate games in Madison Square Garden, N. Y.

Where did the money come from to pay for all this? The Student Government gave the M.A.A. (Men's Athletic Association) a gift of $350. and a loan of $150. To this, the coach has added the difference of $159.25 from his own budget.

Coach Elliot is walking around the campus today with a big smile and a big "Hello" for everyone. He has waited a long time to get new uniforms and has just cause for feeling this way. "When the boys come out on the field or the gym floor, they'll look like a million dollars," the coach said today. "I'm thankful to the Student Government and President Weston for their generous gift. I'm sure the boys will cooperate and pay the dues as requested by the Student Government."

in the town of Lake Mills, Wisconsin. At an early age he went to work as a beginner in the printing trades. Here he gained the experience and knowledge that eventually led to teaching positions in the Middle West as well as the East.

Following his studies at Hamline University in St. Paul, he received his A. B. at Lawrence College. In later years he acquired his Master's Degree in Education from Harvard. He was a student at the University of Wisconsin and the University of Minnesota also.

During the period from 1919 to 1923 he taught in the Industrial Arts Department of The Stout Institute at Menominee, Wisconsin. Upon leaving this position he came East and began teaching here at Fitchburg. Two years later he moved with the Industrial Arts staff from the Jr. High School to the newly constructed building on back campus.

Fishing and gardening, his two favorite hobbies, occupy much of his leisure time.

Besides his accomplishments as a teacher, he has also written three textbooks on his chosen trade. The first, PRINTING OCCUPATIONS, the second, PRINTING FOR THE SCHOOLS and a third which is in production at the present time.

Well liked and respected for his ability are synonyms for Mr. Hague's reputation with his students here at Fitchburg.

LOUIS P. SHEPHERD

"This is sheer poetry" or "This is a galloping drama." Anyone who has ever had a class with Mr. Louis P. Shepherd will recognize these familiar phrases.

Mr. Shepherd has actually led an almost incredibly fabulous life. Among his hobbies are photography, staying up late, sleeping and travel.

Both parents were actors. Mr. Shepherd was with them while they were in vaudeville and in a movie. His parents owned a circus which toured South America when he was only three years old. In his travels, he has covered the British, Dutch, and French West Indies, Cuba, Venezuela, Mexico and most of the United States and Canada. As an undergraduate, he traveled 40,000 miles or more.

He was a full major in speech and English with a social studies minor. While in college, he acted, built sets, and produced plays.

He taught high school in Kansas preparatory schools in New York City Oregon State College, Stanford University, and California State Polytechnic College. His subjects were wide and varied: almost every subject in elementary, intermediate, and junior high school as well as German, Spanish, and speech.

For Co-eds Only . . .

Teachers are very much a part of his family. Several uncles are teachers. He recalls that when he was fourteen, one of his uncles who taught an adult night school course in Shakespeare asked him to take over for him and teach the class. Mr. Shepherd did so, but no one was able to understand it.

Mr. Shepherd's wife taught and was principal of a grade school in Kansas. She taught in all the states that he did. They honeymooned in Greenwich Village, New York for three years because they liked it. He also worked as a stevedore while he was teaching in New York and tells fascinating stories about the people with whom he worked.

He has a daughter, Rae, who was born in California and brought up in Mexico and Fitchburg. She spoke Spanish at the age of three, but has since forgotten it. She shows promise of attaining the fascinating personality of her father.

"COFFEE TIME"

You are in the front lobby of the Administration Building; suddenly your throat is parched, and a chill passes through your weary bones. "Oh, for just one hot drink!" is the thought that races through your mind.

Today, there is no need to worry if there is time for a hot drink before your next class. Just move your tired, heavy feet past the Post Office, down one flight of steps, and stop right outside the Women Commuters' Room. There, before your sleepy eyes is a modern, sleek hot-drink machine. The light green color of the structure rests your eyes, and immediately, you feel refreshed.

As you draw near, you notice five tiny red buttons, a slot for just one dime, and a container for wooden spoons. Now comes the moment of decision. "Should I have hot coffee, tea, or cocoa?" After a slight deliberation, you place a dime in the slot, press the coffee button, and then the cream, sugar, and water buttons in that order. Then, as if by magic a cup of steaming, delicious, hot coffee is yours. Please do not forget the spoon!

After the coffee has refreshed you, you gaze at your wrist-watch and realize that there is still four minutes before the next class session. As you saunter off to your destination, an exclamation leaves your lips. "Boy, that was good!"

This coffee machine is only the beginning of the long range plans for a coffee shop in the Administration Building. Perhaps, we will never see the end results, yet we can be sure that they will exist.

The machine was placed there for our convenience, so let us all patronize and support it.

PHILODEMIC

The Philodemic Society's first function of the year was the annual initiation. Twelve new members joined the club on September 28, 1956.

The annual Philodemic Rose Formal was held on November 2, 1956, at the White Cliffs in Northboro, Massachusetts. Perry Conte's Orchestra furnished the music. Dinner was served at seven and the menu consisted of a choice of baked lobster, steak, or swordfish. Every member and her escort participated in the traditional Rose Ceremony — need more be said about this wonderful evening!

This year is the tenth anniversary of the Philodemic Society and plans are underway to celebrate this occasion in the Spring.

As in the past ten years of its history, the Philodemic Society will endeavor to help in all civic affairs and to participate fully in all college activities and fun.

ADELPHIAN NEWS

At this time the Adelpian Society is busy working and planning for its annual formal dinner and dance. December 1st is the big date. The event is to be held at the Hotel Continental in Cambridge. Peggy Nagle is chairman of the affair.

The annual initiation of the Adelpian Society was held on Friday, October 5th. Many members and alumni were present to meet and install nine pledges as new members.

The officers for this year are as follows:

President . . .	Virginia Madden
Recording Secretary . .	Joanne Cole
Alumni Secretary . .	Mary Butler
Treasurer . .	Mary Ann Burns
Hosp. Chairman . .	Trudie Gordon
Vice-President . .	Ellen Lehtonen

TOKES

Initiation for pledges was held on September 28 and 29 at an undisclosed destination. A turkey supper was served in the late evening at which time the new members of the ToKalon Society were welcomed as "Sisters." We are very proud to announce that the following girls are our new members:

Patricia Linnane	Sally Remse
Dorothy Reinbold	Irene Sullivan
Mary Godley	Barbara Benham
Helen Amor	Judy Tomolo
	Louise Allain

RELIGIOUS CLUBS

The Judaic Club held its initial meeting consisting of an Open House on October 4, 1956 at the Jewish Community Center in Fitchburg. The guest speaker was Mr. Rosenthal, a former teacher at Columbia University, and president of B'nai B'rith in New England. His extremely interesting and timely topic was the importance of the teacher's role in the school today.

Rabbi Schwartz also gave an enlightening talk on the concepts of science and religion.

Following the speakers, the officers of the club were introduced. They are:

President . . .	Bea Mindel
Vice-President . .	Burt Cofman
Treasurer . .	Jerry Levitan
Secretary . .	Barbara Westerman

A "Kosher" time was had by all.

NEWMAN CLUB NEWS

The annual three day Retreat for all members of the Newman Club opened at St. Camillus Church, October 16 and continued through to the 18th of October. The Retreat was conducted by Father Paul Power S.J. of the Jesuit Mission Band. Father Powers sermons were interesting and helpful to all. After the evening Retreat Service on the 18th a regular meeting and a social was held.

S. C. A. NEWS

The second meeting of the Student Christian Association was held on Wednesday evening, October 10, 1956.

The meeting was opened by a devotional service led by Cindy Kimball and Bob Stowe. James Fotopulas presided over the business meeting.

During the social hour which followed, everyone enjoyed eating hot-dogs and drinking soda as they were doing the Finnish Hop around the hall out through the veranda and back into the hall.

It was announced that the next meeting would be a square dance, before which there would be instructions for beginners so that everyone could enjoy himself.
